Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.1in.Pursuant to a legislative requirement, GAO reviewed the Department of Defense (DOD) Concessions Committees operations, focusing on the Committees: (1) financial operations; (2) oversight and management; and (3) contributions to morale, welfare, and recreation (MWR) funds. GAO noted that: (1) the Concessions Committees financial statements are audited by an independent public accounting firm, and those financial statements have consistently received unqualified opinions; (2) as a result, GAO did not independently review the Committees financial operations; (3) GAO reviewed an independent public accounting firms work for the last 2 fiscal years; (4) GAOs review disclosed no instances where the firm did not comply in all material respects with generally accepted government auditing standards; (5) the Committee is not subject to the reporting and oversight requirements of other nonappropriated fund instrumentalities; (6) although the Committees operations are reviewed by a senior official in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Committee has not been required to submit financial information to Force Management and Policy; (7) therefore, Congress does not receive information on its activities; (8) also, the Committees governing directive does not specify the procedures by which the Committee is to manage its day-to-day operations or criteria for determining the types of sales activities it may engage in; (9) in the absence of specific operating procedures, the Committee has followed Army regulations for nonappropriated fund instrumentalities; (10) while GAO did not find any instances where the Committee deviated from the Army regulations, the absence of mandatory operating regulations represents a weakness in management controls; (11) although the Committee has chosen to follow these regulations, it is not required to do so and therefore cannot be held accountable for deviations; (12) although the...
