Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Constitution of the United States Its Friends and Foes: Address Somebody, has said: Doubtless God might have made a better berry than the strawberry, but doubtless God never did. So the seasoned judgment of mankind is: Doubtless man might have made a better constitution than ours, but doubtless man never did. Gladstone said of it: The Constitution of the United States is the greatest political instrument ever struck off on a single occasion by the minds of men. Of it De Tocqueville declared: It enables the Union to combine the power of a great empire with the security of a small State. Impressed with its priceless excellence, Caleb Gushing characterized it as - The best inheritance transmitted to us by our fathers, the monument of their wisdom and their virtue under whose shelter we live and flourish as a people. Encomiums might be multiplied, but the foregoing epitomizes the verdict of impartial minds in all lands. Under the mantle of its protection our Republic for a century and a quarter has survived the shock of foreign and internal wars, as well as the exactions of peace, and despite detraction and opposition and false lights on the shore, our Government of the people, by the people, and for the people still stands upon the foundations of the fathers. How secure it is still rests with the American people. Of late a change seems to have come over a goodly portion of our citizenship - a portentous change - and instead of reverence for the Constitution and pride in its provisions, the air is full of missiles armed at this great instrument. A variable epidemic of...
