To deal with this potential mismatch between plans and s microgravity sciences office has proposed that the NASA resources, research and analysis budget be augmented by research and development funds used to support NASAs space-based research program. The proposed amounts are 4. 7 million for fiscal year 1996, 12. 2 million for 1997, and 22. 2 million for 1998. According to NASA, shifting resources in this way would not increase its overall budget authority. s life and microgravity sciences advisory committee concurred with NASA this approach, stating in June 1994 that the research and analysis budgets are the seed which provides for a successful flight program and recommended that they be increased where they are proven to be inadequate to support the intellectual underpinning of the flight program, even if this means a transfer from the research and development budget so as to comply with overall budget constraints. NASAs...
