To a Kentuckian, no higher compliment, surely, could be paid than to be given an opportunity, on this memorable anniversary, and on this historic field, within sight of the majestic Father of Waters, and under the shadow of this splendid monument, to speak in commemoration of the mighty commander and the valiant forces wlio so successfully contested this ground with their British foes a century ago. One and all, I hasten to thank you for the high privilege which is mine at this hour. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
