That this equation cannot be that of all fans is obvious when we remember that in many fans the manometric efficiency increases at first as the orifice increases from zero, while this equation states that it decreases; nor can it be maintained that the equation applies to fans whose manometric efficiency is greatest at zero orifice, for if the curve of manometric efficiency be drawn with this as ordinate and orifices as abscissic, it will be found that the tangent at the point where the curve cuts the vertical axis is horizontal; and that this is not the case may be seen from fig. 44, which gives curves for eleven fans differing widely in construction. Having already studied the centrifugal pump, it occurred to me about ten years ago that its theory might...
